

Homework: Counting in Your Future

As you read But, I'm Not Good at Math!, think about the math classes that you have taken since the beginning of elementary school. Write a short paragraph about each of the following (you will have four short paragraphs when you are done):

1. Positive experiences you had
2. Negative experience you had.
3. How you feel about your own math skills now.
4. Was there a teacher who made a positive difference in your feelings about math? Explain.
